Case No. 4:18-cv-0806

COMPLAINT FOR PERMANENT INJUNCTION AND OTHER
EQUITABLE RELIEF

28

1 Plaintiff, the Federal Trade Commission (“FTC”), for its Complaint alleges:

2 1. The FTC brings this action under Section 13(b) of the Federal Trade Commission
3 Act (“FTC Act”), 15 U.S.C. § 53(b), and the Telemarketing and Consumer Fraud and Abuse 4 Prevention Act (“Telemarketing Act”), 15 U.S.C. §§ 6101-6108, to obtain preliminary and 5 permanent injunctive relief, rescission or reformation of contracts, restitution, the refund of 6 monies paid, disgorgement of ill-gotten monies, and other equitable relief for Defendants’ acts or 7 practices in violation of Section 5(a) of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 45(a), and the FTC’s 8 Telemarketing Sales Rule (“TSR”), in connection with their deceptive marketing and sale of 9 student loan debt relief services.

10 JURISDICTION AND VENUE

11 2. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1337(a), 12 and 1345, and 15 U.S.C. §§ 45(a), 53(b), 6102(c), and 6105(b).

13 3. Venue is proper in this district under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(1), (b)(2), (c)(1), (c)(2), 14 and (d), and 15 U.S.C. § 53(b).

15 PLAINTIFF

16 4. The FTC is an independent agency of the United States Government created by 17 statute. 15 U.S.C. §§ 41-58. The FTC enforces Section 5(a) of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 45(a), 18 which prohibits unfair or deceptive acts or practices in or affecting commerce. The FTC also 19 enforces the Telemarketing Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 6101-6108. Pursuant to the Telemarketing Act, 20 the FTC promulgated and enforces the TSR, 16 C.F.R. Part 310, which prohibits deceptive and 21 abusive telemarketing acts or practices in or affecting commerce.

22 5. The FTC is authorized to initiate federal district court proceedings, by its own 23 attorneys, to enjoin violations of the FTC Act and the TSR, and to secure such equitable relief as 24 may be appropriate in each case, including rescission or reformation of contracts, restitution, the 25 refund of monies paid, and the disgorgement of ill-gotten monies. 15 U.S.C. §§ 53(b), 26 56(a)(2)(A), and 6102(c).

DEFENDANTS

2 6. Defendant American Financial Benefits Center (“AFBC”), also doing business as 3 AFB and AF Student Services, is a California corporation. AFBC has held itself out as doing 4 business at 311 Professional Center Drive, Suite 200, Rohnert Park, CA 94928 and 1900 Powell
5 Street, Suite 600, Emeryville, CA 94608. AFBC was incorporated in California in February 6 2011. AFBC transacts or has transacted business in this district and throughout the United 7 States. At all times material to this Complaint, acting alone or in concert with others, or as part 8 of the common enterprise described in Paragraph 10, AFBC has advertised, marketed, 9 distributed, or sold student loan debt relief services to consumers throughout the United States.

10 7. Defendant AmeriTech Financial (“AmeriTech”) is a California corporation.
11 AmeriTech has held itself out as doing business at 1101 Investment Boulevard, Suite 290, El 12 Dorado Hills, CA 95762 and 5789 State Farm Drive, Suite 265, Rohnert Park, CA 94928.
13 AmeriTech was incorporated in California in October 2015. AmeriTech transacts or has 14 transacted business in this district and throughout the United States. At all times material to this 15 Complaint, acting alone or in concert with others, or as part of the common enterprise described 16 in Paragraph 10, AmeriTech has advertised, marketed, distributed, or sold student loan debt 17 relief services to consumers throughout the United States.

18 8. Defendant Financial Education Benefits Center (“FEBC”) is a California 19 corporation that has stated in public documents that 2010 Crow Canyon Place, Suite 100, San 20 Ramon, CA 94583 is its principal executive office. FEBC was incorporated in California in 21 October 2015. FEBC transacts or has transacted business in this district and throughout the 22 United States. At all times material to this Complaint, acting alone or in concert with others, or 23 as part of the common enterprise described in Paragraph 10, FEBC has advertised, marketed, 24 distributed, or sold student loan debt relief services to consumers throughout the United States.

25 9. Defendant Brandon Demond Frere (“Frere”) founded AFBC, AmeriTech, and 26 FEBC and is majority owner of the companies. He currently serves as CEO of the Corporate 27 Defendants. Frere resides in this district and, in connection with the matters alleged herein, 28 transacts or has transacted business in this district and throughout the United States.

COMMON ENTERPRISE

1
2 10. Defendants AFBC, AmeriTech, and FEBC (collectively, “Corporate Defendants”) 3 have operated as a common enterprise while engaging in the deceptive acts and practices and 4 other violations of law alleged below. Corporate Defendants have conducted the business 5 practices described below through an interrelated network of companies that have common 6 ownership, officers, managers, and employees. AmeriTech’s November 2015 application to the 7 Better Business Bureau described AFBC as the “parent” and AmeriTech as the “child.” AFBC
8 and AmeriTech commingle their funds. For example, AFBC and AmeriTech bank records show 9 consistent, substantial payments between these accounts. AmeriTech and FEBC sell their 10 services together and provide service contracts simultaneously to consumers. Because these 11 Corporate Defendants have operated as a common enterprise, each of them is jointly and 12 severally liable for the acts and practices alleged below. Defendant Frere has formulated, 13 directed, controlled, had the authority to control, or participated in the acts and practices of the 14 Corporate Defendants that constitute the common enterprise.

COMMERCE

16 11. At all times material to this Complaint, Defendants have maintained a substantial 17 course of trade in or affecting commerce, as “commerce” is defined in Section 4 of the FTC Act, 18 15 U.S.C. § 44.

DEFENDANTS’ DECEPTIVE BUSINESS PRACTICES

19
20 12. Since 2014 and continuing thereafter, Defendants have operated a debt relief 21 enterprise that has tricked consumers out of millions of dollars. Defendants distribute mailers to 22 consumers claiming that consumers are eligible for federal programs that would permanently 23 reduce their monthly loan payments to a fixed amount or result in total loan forgiveness.
24 Defendants collect an advance fee of between $600-800, purportedly to enroll consumers in 25 federal loan assistance programs. In numerous instances, the consumer was not enrolled in the 26 promised federal loan program. In some instances, not only has the consumer’s loan balance not 27 diminished, but it has also accrued interest.
28

1 13. In addition to the advance fees, Defendants also collect and retain monthly fees 2 that consumers believe are being applied to pay down their loans, but are actually going towards 3 a membership to a “financial education” program that includes access to various resources 4 unrelated to their student loans. Defendants have collected over $28 million from consumers.

5 Background on Student Loan Forgiveness and Repayment Programs

6 14. Student loan debt is the second largest class of consumer debt; more than 42
7 million Americans collectively owe nearly $1.34 trillion. The student loan market shows 8 elevated levels of distress relative to other types of consumer debt.

9 15. To address this mounting level of distressed debt, the Department of Education 10 (“ED”) and state government agencies administer a limited number of student loan forgiveness 11 and discharge programs. Most consumers, however, are not eligible for these programs because 12 of strict eligibility requirements. For example, one program requires the consumer to 13 demonstrate a total and permanent disability; another applies only to consumers whose school 14 closed while the consumer was still enrolled. A third program, the Borrower Defense to 15 Repayment (“BDR”), may provide a loan discharge if the school, through an act or omission, 16 violated state law directly related to the borrower’s federal student loan or to the educational 17 services for which the loan was provided.

18 16. Other forgiveness programs require working in certain professions for a period of 19 years. Teacher Loan Forgiveness applies to teachers who have worked full-time for five years in 20 a low-income elementary or secondary school or educational service agency. Public Service 21 Loan Forgiveness (“PSLF”) applies to employees of governmental units or non-profit 22 organizations who make timely monthly payments for a period of ten years while employed in 23 the public sector.

24 17. The federal government also offers loan forgiveness through income-driven 25 repayment (“IDR”) programs that enable borrowers to reduce their monthly payments and have 26 portions of their loans forgiven. As of September 2017, no loans had been forgiven under any of 27 the IDR programs. IDR programs allow eligible borrowers to limit their monthly payments 28 based on a percentage of their discretionary monthly income. To remain in an IDR program,

1 borrowers must recertify their income and family size annually. Obtaining forgiveness through 2 IDR programs requires a minimum of 20 or 25 years of qualifying payments.

3 18. Because a borrower's income is likely to fluctuate over the life of the loan, 4 monthly payments under the IDR programs can vary considerably from year to year. If a 5 borrower's income were to increase over the repayment period, for example, the monthly 6 payment amount could correspondingly increase to the point where those payments would pay 7 off the loan before any amount could be forgiven at the end of the repayment term.

8 19. Consumers can apply for BDR, PSLF, IDR, and other loan repayment and 9 forgiveness or discharge programs through ED or their student loan servicers at no cost; these 10 programs do not require the assistance of a third-party company or payment of application fees.

11 20. ED will grant forbearance while processing applications for an alternative 12 repayment plan, and in some cases of hardship. During forbearance, unpaid interest adds to the 13 principal balance.

14 21. ED also allows consumers with multiple federal loans to consolidate them into 15 one "Direct Consolidation Loan" with a fixed interest rate and single monthly payment. ED does 16 not charge for consolidation and offers a dedicated helpline and webpage to assist borrowers 17 with the process.

18 Defendants' Deceptive Marketing of Student Loan Debt Relief Services

19 22. Since at least 2014 and continuing thereafter, Defendants have disseminated, or 20 have caused to be disseminated, personalized mailers to consumers throughout the United States, 21 including but not necessarily limited to the attached Exhibits A-E. These mailers have contained 22 the following statements:

23 a. Exhibit A-1. (dated "reply by 12/31/14")

14 23. Defendants' mailers do not advertise or describe a monthly membership to any 15 service. Exhibits A-E.

16 24. Defendants' mailers create a sense of urgency by indicating that the offers are 17 available for a limited time only or by stating, "[F]ailure to respond to this letter may void 18 company offer for services." Exhibit D-1; see also Exhibits B-C.

19 25. In numerous instances, Defendants did not include the names American Financial 20 Benefits Center, AmeriTech Financial, or Financial Education Benefits Center on mailers they 21 sent consumers.

22 26. The mailers list a toll-free phone number where consumers can reach Defendants.
23 When consumers call Defendants, they are connected to one of Defendants' sales agents. The 24 recorded message that consumers hear while waiting for a sales agent has stated: "You have 25 reached the program enrollment department," and "[T]o speak with an account specialist 26 regarding an important notice you've received, please stay on the line."

27 27. Defendants tell consumers that their new monthly payment amount will be their 28 payment amount for the next ten or 20 years, and that thereafter, the consumers' remaining loan

1 balances will be forgiven. Defendants also tell consumers that they will save a specific amount 2 of money, usually in the thousands of dollars, by enrolling in the program Defendants describe.

3 28. Defendants make false or unsubstantiated representations to consumers about 4 their eligibility for IDR programs based on inaccurate family size and income information. For 5 example, Defendants inform consumers that they are allowed to inflate their family size on the 6 IDR application. In a recorded call, one of Defendants' sales representatives, when describing 7 how to count family size, told a consumer:

8 Now, support includes any kind of money – gifts, loans, housing, food, clothing, 9 car, medical or dental, payment of college costs. Do you help anybody – if you 10 have somebody on your cell phone plan; if you have somebody on your gym 11 membership, they're considered part of your family. And we just had Christmas.
12 You know, if you bought presents, clothes, watch, earrings, toilet paper, they're a 13 part of your family.

14 29. "Family size" for the IDR programs "means the number that is determined by 15 counting the borrower, the borrower's spouse, and the borrower's children, including unborn 16 children who will be born during the year the borrower certifies family size, if the children 17 receive more than half their support from the borrower. A borrower's family size includes other 18 individuals if, at the time the borrower certifies family size, the other individuals - (i) Live with 19 the borrower; and (ii) Receive more than half their support from the borrower and will continue 20 to receive this support from the borrower for the year the borrower certifies family size." 34 21 C.F.R. § 682.215(a)(3).

22 30. The family size listed on an IDR program application affects eligibility for these 23 programs and the monthly amount a consumer will have to pay. Because of Defendants' 24 misrepresentations about family-size requirements, consumers may be improperly enrolled in 25 federal student loan programs for which they do not qualify.

26 31. Defendants' representations that they are able to procure a permanent reduction in 27 consumers' monthly payments are also false or unsubstantiated because none of ED's IDR 28 programs guarantees consumers a fixed, reduced monthly payment for more than one year.

1 Under ED's IDR programs, monthly payments fluctuate based on consumers' income in a given 2 year, which consumers must recertify annually, and the amount forgiven depends on what 3 remains unpaid at the end of the repayment period. In many cases, consumers' income will rise 4 over the years-long repayment period, and as consumers' income rises, so will their monthly 5 payment in a given year. As a result, the amount that would be forgiven at the end of the 6 repayment term typically would be less than Defendants have promised.

7 32. After Defendants have convinced consumers to enroll in a federal program and 8 turn over their payment information, Defendants email consumers a link to a lengthy contract 9 that consumers are required to sign electronically. As consumers remain on the phone, 10 Defendants pressure them to quickly click through the document and electronically sign multiple 11 pages. In some instances, Defendants represent that consumers do not need to read the 12 agreement carefully because the information contained in the contract was already discussed in 13 the call. At the end of the calls, Defendants transfer consumers to the Verification Department 14 where employees quickly read lengthy disclosures to consumers.

15 33. Defendants charge consumers an advance fee for "document preparation" ranging 16 from $600 to $800, which Defendants generally collect over one to six installments, before 17 attempting to enroll consumers in any federal program.

18 Defendants' Deceptive Marketing of "Financial Education" Memberships

19 34. In addition to charging an advance fee, since 2014 and continuing thereafter, 20 Defendants have also charged consumers a monthly fee for the life of their loan, typically 10-25 21 years. The monthly fee ranges between $49 and $99. Defendants represent in communications 22 with consumers that the monthly fee will be used to pay down consumers' loans. For example, 23 Defendants told one consumer, "Your quote based on your current situation is $255 for 1 month 24 then it would drop down to $235 for an additional 6 months then it will be $99 for the remainder 25 of your loan term, if your situation stays the same, which would be 25 years." Exhibit F.

26 35. In fact, Defendants apply the monthly fees they receive from consumers towards 27 memberships to their "financial education" program. The membership fees, which agents rarely 28 discuss during the sales call, are used to pay for access to various resources unrelated to

1 consumers' student loans, such as "Key Ring & Luggage Protection," "Everyday Grocery 2 Savings," "Auto Buying Service and Maintenance Discounts," "Financial Calculators," "medical 3 and wellness discounts," and "Access to Dozens of Informational & Useful Web links." See, 4 e.g., Exhibit G (contract excerpts). The explanation of what members receive often is buried in 5 the middle of the numerous documents that Defendants provide to consumers. Exhibit H-17.
6 Many consumers believe that their monthly payments to Defendants are going toward paying 7 their student loan balance, not a membership program unrelated to their student loan. In addition 8 to the monthly membership fee, Defendants charged consumers an enrollment fee to their 9 "financial education" program ranging from $100 to $1,300.

10 36. Defendants' collection notices further reinforce their representation that 11 consumers' monthly payments are going towards their student loans. If a consumer misses a 12 monthly payment for Defendants' "financial education" program, Defendants send them a notice 13 stating, "RE: Student Loan Payment . . . YOUR FILE IS CURRENTLY ON HOLD 14 . . .  Don't risk falling behind on your payments", or similar language. Exhibit I.

15 37. Defendants often refuse to provide refunds to consumers. In some instances, 16 Defendants have provided only partial refunds that are substantially less than what consumers 17 paid to Defendants.

18 Role of Individual Defendant Brandon Frere

19 38. At all times material to this Complaint, acting alone or in concert with others, 20 Brandon Frere has formulated, directed, controlled, had the authority to control, or participated 21 in the acts and practices of the Corporate Defendants, including the acts and practices set forth in 22 this Complaint.

23 39. Frere is majority owner of AFBC. He incorporated AFBC in 2011 and has served 24 as the company's CEO, Secretary, CFO, and sole Director since that time. Frere has signed 25 contracts with consumers on behalf of AFBC as a "Managing Director" of the company. As an 26 owner and officer of AFBC, Frere has the authority to control the acts of the company.

VIOLATIONS OF THE FTC ACT

Count I

Deceptive Student Loan Debt Relief Representations

1
3 47. In numerous instances, in connection with the advertising, marketing, promotion, 4 offering for sale, or sale of student loan debt relief services, Defendants have represented, 5 directly or indirectly, expressly or by implication, that:

6 a. Consumers' monthly payments to Defendants would be applied toward 7 consumers' student loans; and

8 b. Consumers were qualified for, or were approved to receive, loan 9 forgiveness or other programs that would permanently lower or eliminate 10 their loan payments or balances.

11 48. In truth and in fact, in numerous instances in which Defendants made the 12 representations set forth in Paragraph 47 of this Complaint, such representations were false or 13 not substantiated at the time Defendants made them.

14 49. Therefore, Defendants' representations as set forth in Paragraph 47 of this 15 Complaint are false or misleading and constitute deceptive acts or practices in violation of 16 Section 5(a) of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 45(a).

THE TELEMARKETING SALES RULE

17
18 50. Congress directed the FTC to prescribe rules prohibiting abusive and deceptive 19 telemarketing acts or practices pursuant to the Telemarketing Act, 15 U.S.C. §§ 6101-6108. The 20 FTC adopted the original TSR in 1995, extensively amended it in 2003, and amended certain 21 provisions thereafter. 16 C.F.R. Part 310.

22 51. Defendants are "seller[s]" or "telemarketer[s]" engaged in "telemarketing" as 23 defined by the TSR, 16 C.F.R. §§ 310.2(dd), (ff), (gg). A "seller" means any person who, in 24 connection with a telemarketing transaction, provides, offers to provide, or arranges for others to 25 provide goods or services to a customer in exchange for consideration. 16 C.F.R. § 310.2(dd).
26 A "telemarketer" means any person who, in connection with telemarketing, initiates or receives 27 telephone calls to or from a customer or donor. 16 C.F.R. § 310.2(ff). "Telemarketing" means a 28 plan, program, or campaign which is conducted to induce the purchase of goods or services or a

1 charitable contribution, by use of one or more telephones and which involves more than one 2 interstate telephone call. 16 C.F.R. § 310.2(gg).

3 52. Defendants are sellers or telemarketers of “debt relief services” as defined by the 4 TSR, 16 C.F.R. § 310.2(o). Under the TSR, a “debt relief service” means any program or service 5 represented, directly or by implication, to renegotiate, settle, or in any way alter the terms of 6 payment or other terms of the debt between a person and one or more unsecured creditors, 7 including but not limited to a reduction in the balance, interest rate, or fees owed by a person to 8 an unsecured creditor or debt collector. 16 C.F.R. § 310.2(o).

9 53. The TSR prohibits sellers and telemarketers from requesting or receiving payment 10 of any fees or consideration for any debt relief service until and unless:

- 11 a. The seller or telemarketer has renegotiated, settled, reduced, or otherwise 12 altered the terms of at least one debt pursuant to a settlement agreement, 13 debt management plan, or other such valid contractual agreement executed 14 by the customer;
- 15 b. The customer has made at least one payment pursuant to that settlement 16 agreement, debt management plan, or other valid contractual agreement 17 between the customer and the creditor; and
- 18 c. To the extent that debts enrolled in a service are renegotiated, settled, 19 reduced, or otherwise altered individually, the fee or consideration either:
- 20 i. Bears the same proportional relationship to the total fee for 21 renegotiating, settling, reducing, or altering the terms of the entire 22 debt balance as the individual debt amount bears to the entire debt 23 amount. The individual debt amount and the entire debt amount 24 are those owed at the time the debt was enrolled in the service; or
- 25 ii. Is a percentage of the amount saved as a result of the renegotiation, 26 settlement, reduction, or alteration. The percentage charged cannot 27 change from one individual debt to another. The amount saved is 28 the difference between the amount owed at the time the debt was 1 enrolled in the service and the amount actually paid to satisfy the 2 debt. 16 C.F.R. § 310.4(a)(5)(i).

3 54. The TSR prohibits sellers and telemarketers from misrepresenting directly or by 4 implication, any material aspect of any debt relief service, including, but not limited to, the 5 amount of money or the percentage of the debt amount that a customer may save by using the 6 service. 16 C.F.R. § 310.3(a)(2)(x).

7 55. Pursuant to Section 3(c) of the Telemarketing Act, 15 U.S.C. § 6102(c), and 8 Section 18(d)(3) of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 57a(d)(3), a violation of the TSR constitutes an 9 unfair or deceptive act or practice in or affecting commerce, in violation of Section 5(a) of the 10 FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 45(a).

11 VIOLATIONS OF THE TELEMARKETING SALES RULE

12 Count II

13 Advance Fee for Debt Relief Services

14 56. In numerous instances, in connection with the telemarketing of student loan debt
15 relief services, Defendants have requested or received payment of a fee or consideration for debt 16 relief services before:

- 17 a. Defendants had renegotiated, settled, reduced, or otherwise altered the 18 terms of at least one debt pursuant to a settlement agreement, debt 19 management plan, or other such valid contractual agreement executed by 20 the customer; and 21 b. The customer had made at least one payment pursuant to that settlement 22 agreement, debt management plan, or other valid contractual agreement 23 between the customer and the creditor.

24 57. Defendants' acts or practices, as described in Paragraph 56 of this Complaint, are 25 abusive telemarketing acts or practices that violate Section 310.4(a)(5)(i) of the TSR, 16 C.F.R.
26 §310.4(a)(5)(i).
27
28

Count III
Material Debt Relief Misrepresentations

1
2 58. In numerous instances, in connection with the telemarketing of student loan debt 3 relief services, Defendants have misrepresented, directly or indirectly, expressly or by 4 implication, material aspects of their debt relief services, including that:

- 5 a. Consumers' monthly payments to Defendants would be applied toward 6 consumers' student loans; and 7 b. Consumers were qualified for, or are approved to receive, loan forgiveness 8 or other programs that will permanently lower or eliminate their loan 9 payments or balances.

10 59. Defendants' acts and practices, as described in Paragraph 58 of this Complaint, 11 are deceptive telemarketing acts or practices that violate Section 310.3(a)(2)(x) of the TSR, 16 12 C.F.R. § 310.3(a)(2)(x).

CONSUMER INJURY

13
14 60. Consumers have suffered and will continue to suffer substantial injury as a result 15 of Defendants' violations of the FTC Act and the TSR. In addition, Defendants have been 16 unjustly enriched as a result of their unlawful acts or practices. Absent injunctive relief by this 17 Court, Defendants are likely to continue to injure consumers, reap unjust enrichment, and harm 18 the public interest.

THIS COURT'S POWER TO GRANT RELIEF

19
20 61. Section 13(b) of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 53(b), empowers this Court to grant 21 injunctive and such other relief as the Court may deem appropriate to halt and redress violations 22 of any provision of law enforced by the FTC. The Court, in the exercise of its equitable 23 jurisdiction, may award ancillary relief, including rescission or reformation of contracts, 24 restitution, the refund of monies paid, and the disgorgement of ill-gotten monies, to prevent and 25 remedy any violation of any provision of law enforced by the FTC.

26 62. Section 6(b) of the Telemarketing Act, 15 U.S.C. § 6105(b), authorizes this Court 27 to grant such relief as the Court finds necessary to redress injury to consumers resulting from 28

1 Defendants' violations of the TSR, including the rescission or reformation of contracts, and the 2 refund of money.

3 PRAYER FOR RELIEF

4 Wherefore, Plaintiff FTC, pursuant to Section 13(b) of the FTC Act, 15 U.S.C. § 53(b), 5 and the Court's own equitable powers, requests that the Court:

6 A. Award Plaintiff such preliminary injunctive and ancillary relief as may be 7 necessary to avert the likelihood of consumer injury during the pendency of this action and to 8 preserve the possibility of effective final relief, including but not limited to, a preliminary 9 injunction, appointment of a receiver, and an asset preservation order;

10 B. Enter a permanent injunction to prevent future violations of the FTC Act and the 11 TSR;

12 C. Award such relief as the Court finds necessary to redress injury to consumers 13 resulting from Defendants' violations of the FTC Act and the TSR, including but not limited to, 14 rescission or reformation of contracts, restitution, the refund of monies paid, and the 15 disgorgement of ill-gotten monies; and 16 D. Award Plaintiff the costs of bringing this action, as well as such other and 17 additional relief as the Court may determine to be just and proper.
